Education consists of a series of enhancements, each raising the individual to a higher level of awareness, understanding and kinship with all living things. Education is very important amongst all of us and it is a fact which cannot be denied by anybody. With an ever-increasing competition in all the sectors, it has become inevitable for an individual to acquire knowledge beyond the bookish ones. Over the years, the demand for skilled labour capable of multitasking is rising every day. As a result, it is a necessity to adapt oneself with the need of the hour. It gives me immense happiness and pride to say that CPJ - CHS & School of Law is continuously striving for excellence. Our endeavor is not only class room teaching but also providing students with an environment that can groom and develop their skills for a professional career. CPJ - CHS & School of Law glances itself to be one of the best 10 Business & Law Schools in the years to come and to be an epitome of excellence and perfection.

GENERAL SECRETARY'S MESSAGE

Dr. Abhishek Jain

Right from its inception in 2007, CPJ College of Higher Studies & School of Law has exhibited academic excellence in all the disciplines of Management, IT, Commerce & Law. With our vision to excel in imparting high-quality higher education, it has been our endeavor to continually improve the infrastructural facilities in the college so that learning becomes a motivation for the students.

We, as the management of the college, are fully conscious of the hard-core competitive scenario in today's world and, as such, have established the special cell for training and placement wherein focused emphasis is laid on Personality Development and Communication Skills of our students. Since Faculties are the backbone of any educational institute, identification of competent faculties and their up-gradation through Faculty Development Programmes, Guest Lectures etc. continues to be our major concern.

We have been running CPJ College with a strong belief of being an epitome of teaching and this can only be achieved by the joint efforts of the management, senior functionaries, faculties, supporting staff and the students of our college and we are very much gearing ahead in that direction. As such, I invite the students to join CPJ College and excel in their academics and career.

Enjoy and Fun at Dubai

This was a much affectionate session for every student which gave us an idea about their work and how their vision can inspire us towards the development. After that, the students were taken to Dubai Law firm for an interactive session with the advocates from Dubai. The students got to know about the various laws that are followed in the whole United Arab Emirates and also the local ones followed in Dubai. They were also very keen to join the firms for internship during the tenure of their course.

Later, on the same day, the students and faculty went to witness the world-famous Musical Fountain Show followed by a visit to Burj Khalifa. There, They enjoyed a lot having a view from 124th floor of Dubai city lit at night. They had an elated experience learning about how it was constructed in such a short period. Knowledge Park, the famous Frame building, Dubai Global Village and other famous places. In Abu Dhabi, they saw oil refineries, king's palaces and many more places.

The tour was followed by visiting the famous Ferrari World in Abu Dhabi. In Ferrari world, they had fun to another level with all the unlimited rides and the most interesting part was that they were accommodated with the passes which included rides for everyone and also for a non-rider as for them there were 3-D rides and other. Students had much fun while seeing different models of Ferrari cars which are rare in India, also they were too excited to click photos with them. There they saw some limited-edition products of Ferrari in their stores and the food served there was delicious Indian food. They were taken care of the travelling as well, as Ferrari world is in Abu Dhabi and we stayed in Deira, Dubai. The rides were unlimited, food was delicious and travelling to our comfort was their first priority, it was like a topping on the cake.

On 7-April-2018, we checked out from the hotel and headed back for our respective destinations.

It was indeed an amazing experience. Ms. Stuti Narula was one of the faculties who got an opportunity to be part of CPJ's international trip. As per her, CPJ is one of those institutions that give its students a perfect path to explore their career with all the confidence and is capable of giving its students a learning internationally. In the competition, around 46 teams participated from all over India. At the initial level all the teams had to argue for both side (from petitioner and respondent). Our students did pretty well and gave their best to the competition and learnt a lot from other teams and judges present there. This competition was indeed different from others since it had a problem which was based on the Code of Criminal Procedure and the Constitution to work on together at once which tested their knowledge almost in both the subject of law and stimulated their drafting skills. Unfortunately, they couldn't make it to the top four teams, however in the end experience does matter and hard work never goes in vain.

As on the valedictory ceremony, the students were provided with the certificates and were obliged by the presence of great personality of the legal fraternity such as-Honorable Justice Mr. R.K. Agarwal, Supreme Court of India who shared his views on the importance of the Moot Court in today's era.

We also participated in the said competition representing our college but unfortunately, we were not able to qualify for the final rounds. Our team did pretty well and reached till the semifinal round successfully, that means they were among the top 4 teams competing for the prestigious trophy, however they lost to Symbiosis Law College, Pune in the semifinal round, which finally won the Competition.

This competition was indeed different from others since it had a wide number of statutes to be dealt with such as the Army Rules, Punjab Civil Service Rules, Pension Rules, Limitation Act, Code of Civil Procedure and Constitution of India. The team had to Research on all these statutes altogether which tested their knowledge almost in every field of law and stimulated their drafting skills. Unfortunately, they couldn't make it to the Finals. However, in the end, experience does matter and hard work never goes in vain.

It has surely helped our students inculcate the lawyering skills, court craft, professional ethics and approach to advocacy that the student - lawyer develops through the moot court exercises that keep him/her in good stead when he/she enters the profession on his/her obtaining the law degree.

Participation in National Debate Competition in Sardar Patel Subharti Institute of Law

Our Four Students participated in NATIONAL DEBATE COMPETITION organized by Sardar Patel Subharti Institute of Law on 14-April-2018.

Dheeraj Sharma (BBA LL.B 4th Year Section-B), Aditya Mishra (BBA LL.B 4th Year Section-B), Khushboo Sharma (BBA LL.B 4th Year Section-B) & Priyanka Agarwal (BBA LL. B 4th Year Section-B).

In 4th National Subharthi & Unmukt Bharat Debate Competition on 14-April-2018, two teams from our college participated in the said competition and the topic of the debate competition was Ban on Triple Talaq will uplift the status of Muslim women.

About 35 Teams from different states participated in the competition. Each team consisted of two members (For & Against). A slot of 5 minutes (4 minutes + 1 minute) was allotted to each member.

There were three judges including one justice of Allahabad High Court in the said competition. The event started with the lamp lighting ceremony followed by Ganesh Vandana.

As Apex Court has already declared Triple Talaq as unconstitutional and held that it violates Article 14, 15 and 21 of the Indian Constitution, all participants of the competition with their logical arguments, argued on the point that whether ban on triple talaq will uplift the status of Muslim women or not.

It was very evident that the teams were well prepared and they used various skills like overstatement, definition, irony etc. to convince the audience.

The participants, armed with statistics and data, made their arguments more emphatic with their righteous facial expressions, body movement and gestures.

The students gained the experience and made logical points on the topic. Aligarh Muslim University finally became the champions. The Chief Judge delivered a brief speech and he was highly pleased with student's logical presentation.

In the end, the judges summarized the debate competition by saying that ban on triple talaq will uplift the status of Muslim women.

India Criminalizes Instant 'Talaq' Divorces for Muslim Men

India has criminalized a centuries-old practice in which Muslim men could instantly divorce their wives, a step that has polarized political parties over how deeply the government should become involved in marital and religious issues.

The practice, called triple talaq, allows Muslim men to divorce their wives by using the word "talaq," meaning divorce in Arabic, three times in person, over the phone or even in writing or text message. The option is not available to Muslim women, who can seek a divorce only after getting permission from their husbands, a cleric or other religious authorities.

The Supreme Court last year struck down a legal provision that had permitted the practice. A new ordinance approved on Wednesday by an executive body led by Prime Minister Narendra Modi goes a step further, making it a criminal offense and setting a fine and a jail sentence of up to three years for men convicted of using the practice. But the ordinance is law for only up to six months. During that period, India's Parliament must pass the ordinance or it will become void.

The measure applies to all of India except the state of Jammu and Kashmir, which has a largely Muslim population. Many predominantly Muslim countries have already banned triple talaq, which is widely frowned upon around the world.

Reaction to the ordinance was split along political lines. India's governing Bharatiya Janata Party, which is rooted in Hindu nationalism, welcomed the ordinance.

Earlier this year, the upper house of India's Parliament failed to pass a bill that would have enacted many of the same provisions in the ordinance approved on Wednesday.

That bill, called the Muslim Women Protection of Rights on Marriage Bill, passed the lower house of Parliament in December.

In India, the government can pass temporary ordinances with the full force of laws through the Union Council of Ministers and India's President, if Parliament is sitting on a bill.

While India's Constitution guarantees equal rights to all citizens regardless of religion, issues involving marriage, divorce, alimony and inheritance are handled differently among religious populations. India – which is overwhelmingly Hindu but has a sizable number of Muslims, Sikhs and Christians – does not have a uniform set of laws that applies to all citizens on matters of marriage and divorce.

Ravi Shankar Prasad, the law minister and a member of the Bharatiya Janata Party, has heavily criticized the leading opposition party, Indian National Congress, for stalling the marriage bill. On Wednesday, he described passing of the executive ordinance to criminalize talaq as a matter of “overwhelming urgency.”

“I have said this before: The issue of triple talaq has nothing to do with faith, mode of worship or religion,” he said. “It is a pure issue of gender justice, gender dignity and gender equality.”

“The Modi government is treating the issue more as a political football than a matter of justice to Muslim women,” Mr. Surjewala was quoted as saying to Indian media.

For years, Muslim women groups have been central to the effort to end the practice, supporting previous efforts with the Supreme Court and in Parliament.

The new ordinance states that only the wife or one of her blood relatives can file a criminal complaint against the husband, and that custody of a couple's children will be given to the wife.

The Muslim Women (Protection of Rights on Marriage) Bill 2017 has been passed in the Lok Sabha but has been stalled in the Rajya Sabha – where the government does not have a majority – as three big changes were introduced on the last day of the monsoon session. The ordinance has to be cleared in parliament within six months.

After the President's sign-off on the ordinance, “Triple Talaq” – the practice of Muslim men uttering “Talaq” thrice to get a divorce – will be punishable with a jail term of up to three years and a fine. The woman will be entitled to maintenance.

There is no Substitute to Hard work

“Hard work beats talent when talent does not work hard”

The above saying is replete with fact. It also offers an advice not to underestimate the importance of hard work regardless of whether one is talented or not. It is said to be the stepping stone to success. Hard work does not go waste, but pays off in the end.

When you work hard and do your best, you pave the ways for self-development. It makes you self-disciplined and self-motivated. It embellishes your personality, polishes your talents and unlock your potentials so that you can achieve what you want to achieve in life.

“Chance favors the prepared mind” and one is prepared well through hard work. History is full of such examples where the person had nothing more than a vision but went on to change the world. Hard work is the critical input that separates the great from ordinary.

Take the example of Jamaican champion sprinter Usain Bolt who is supremely gifted. But that doesn't stop him from training six days a week. Talent is a bonus, but scaling the peak of success is impossible without hard work.

So, if you want to become a successful person in life, you must work hard against enormous odds to achieve the success you desire.
